

Rifton Dining

• Rifton dining shown with optional sideboard

• Ash veneer and solid hardwood construction with the look of rugged reclaimed lumber

• Exposed tongue and groove joinery as seen at the end of the table top

• Table feature rustic nut-and-bolt accents on four corners

• Each 10" end leaf is secured by a pair of wood glides and an extra wooden support

• Hand-made saw marks on chair back and apron complement the worn leatherette upholstery

• Chairs are corner-blocked on all 4 sides to ensure rigidity and durability

• Each table leg is secured with two oversized bolts for added stability

• Built-in wine glass holders on the open compartments on each side of the optional sideboard

• This collection bears the patina of reclaimed wood and is accented with distinctive saw marks, exposed rough edges and imperfections that speak to the wood's unique character.
